Builders Mutual Names MATH Insurance to the Status of Champions Club

Raleigh, N.C. – Builders Mutual Insurance Company is pleased to announce that out of more than 700 agencies, MATH Insurance qualified to join our 2019 Champions Club, the select group representing our profitable partner agencies.

“Congratulations to MATH Insurance for earning the status of Champions Club. As one of our top performing partners, we are proud of the consistent growth and profitability MATH Insurance has shown during the last three years,” stated Brad Moock, Assistant Vice President of Business Development with Builders Mutual. “As a company, will continue to work closely with MATH Insurance to provide outstanding service and support to both the agency and our mutual customers.”

MATH Insurance focuses on writing insurance for customers in the construction industry and maintains a close working relationship with Builders Mutual.

Headquartered in North Carolina, Builders Mutual is one of the Mid-Atlantic and Southeast’s leading writers of commercial insurance for the construction industry. Since its inception, Builders Mutual has broadened its territory beyond North Carolina to include the District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Maryland, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia. The company provides coverage to more than 23,000 policyholders through more than 5,000 sales agents and employs more than 300 staff at its Raleigh headquarters.
